LAPEER — Lapeer County Bank & Trust Co. has a long-standing and historic relationship with the county. Founded in 1902 in downtown Lapeer, it will be celebrating 110 years of service next year. In 1962, the bank was the first in the area to receive a charter, allowing it to offer trust services. Today, Lapeer County Bank & Trust Co., with eight locations throughout the county, employs more than 100 banking professionals. As the only bank headquartered in Lapeer County, their trademark is “Our roots are here, not just branches.”

“As a community bank, we provide everything in the way of loans and deposit products as well as technology-based services such as mobile banking, online banking and bill pay and remote capture,” said Nancy Sommerville, business development director.

Tom Mitchell, the new vice president and wealth advisor, is taking the bank into a new era of wealth management services. He and assistant trust officer Gary Shegina have over 50 years of combined experience in the wealth management business. The services offered at Lapeer County Bank & Trust Co. have been refocused to provide a more comprehensive approach to asset management and client relationships. “Our goal is to help our clients grow, preserve and distribute their wealth,” said Mitchell.

Erin Landers, another professional in the Wealth Management Group, provides retail brokerage services that include education, retirement and financial planning. More traditional wealth management services available are investment management, trust services, estate settlement, business succession and tax planning for individuals and families. “We listen, we understand, and we deliver a comprehensive wealth management solution for each of our clients,” said Mitchell.

“The investment world has become far more complicated in recent years for individuals and businesses alike,” Mitchell said, “so, we recently engaged a registered investment advisory firm, Financial Counselors, Inc., to provide enhanced research, analysis and investment strategies, which allows us to offer objective, professional, world class investment advice to our clients with a local, community bank approach.”
